Our financial team also includes specialists who are experts in evaluating new private businesses called start-ups which have most chances to grow into large-scale and highly profitable enterprises. The idea is very simple: every business needs starting capital to go through bureaucratic formalities, rent premises, purchase equipment and other assets, hire employees and so on. As a rule, start-ups don't have sufficient funds to afford everything they need for effective activity. Banks are quite prudent to "newbies", so it is often very difficult to borrow as much as necessary from banks.

Based on historical data, the same asset can perform drastically differently during different investment cycles. The best-performing asset in 2017 can turn out to be the worst laggard in 2018. That suggests no particular asset can be an all-time winner.

PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

Investors should therefore avoid putting all eggs in one basket but allocate assets across different sectors and geographies. That could help diversify the risk of an investment portfolio, and capture investment opportunities at different times or more stable returns in the medium- to long-term.

To make diversification work, an investment portfolio should include assets that are complementary, that tend to react differently to the same macro condition. More precisely, some negative elements in the market might cause an asset to decline sharply, but pose little threat to another. In the world of investment, such pairs are called lowly-correlated assets. They can effectively balance the risk and return of an investment portfolio.

In the investing journey, investors should start off by constructing a portfolio that accommodates their investment objectives and risk profiles. However, setting up the initial asset allocation is merely a starting point. It is equally important to regularly re-balance the portfolio to ensure the asset weighting remains consistent. Overlooking the need to re-balance the portfolio can prevent investors from achieving their long-term investment goals.

Market changes shift portfolio away from initial objective. In an investment portfolio, the relative weights of different asset classes may change due to market fluctuations which lead to a shifted asset allocation that deviates from the original target. In this case, re-balancing the portfolio will mean restoring the weighting of portfolio assets to the original designed levels.

Hedge Funds and Private Equity The Company's investments in externally managed private equity funds and hedge funds, as well as private equity direct and co-investments. The portfolio seeks to maximize risk-adjusted returns and diversify exposure by industry and geography, while giving the Company a global view of the alternative investment landscape.

With our archiving capacities and constant education of our staff, monitoring ever changing regulatory and global finance requirements we are sure we can be a valuable ally in your expansion.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT

The Company established the Investment Management division formerly known as Principal Investments and began its evolution into a leader in alternative investment. Investment Management leverages the Group's expertise, network, and financial strength to seek attractive risk-adjusted investment opportunities across global markets and sectors.

This includes the Company's internally managed strategies, corporate holdings and cash. We actively manage all sub-portfolios and carefully use derivatives and hedging to increase returns and manage risk.

Hit your investment targets with the right approach

Once you have identified your investment targets, you can put your cash into different asset classes and construct a portfolio based on your risk tolerance. The idea of asset allocation is to include equities, bonds and other investment tools in a basket. Since different investment vehicles come with different risk-return profiles, asset allocation is never easy. Generally, the higher the potential return of an asset class, the higher the risks it carries. Capital Markets With different packages, our system is modeled to accommodate everyone no matter how much you have to invest. A Team of Professionals.
